Talking about 'environmental' holidays

- 1 Complete the text. If you need help, look at page 22 of the Student's Book.

The next destination's Brazil and the Amazon rainforest to look for jaguars: you have to look very carefully because the jaguar is well camouflaged.

Then, you visit Antarctica and the penguins. They're having fun in the snow, but you have to (1) _____ because it's extremely cold.

Your next destination is Rwanda, Africa, to see the gorillas. You have to (2) _____ in front of them. Look for the wrinkles above their noses: the researchers use them

(3) _____.

- 2 You are going camping with your friends. Use the list to write what you have to and don't have to take.

Weekend Camping Trip

Talking about obligations and things which are forbidden

- 3 A journalist is interviewing James, a member of an environmental group. Reorder the interview.

- 1 Interviewer: What is the GC?
 James: Yes, but you have to be over 12.
 Interviewer: Can anyone join the club?
 James: Well, we protect trees and animals and we clean up parks. Oh, and sometimes we do international projects.
 Interviewer: What kind of things do you do?
 James: Yes. Last year, I went to the Amazon rainforest for three weeks.
 Interviewer: That's interesting. Can you give me an example?
 James: It means Green Club and it's an organisation for young people.
 Interviewer: What else can you tell our listeners?
 10 James: Please protect our planet! It is very important to save energy.

- 4 You want to start an environmental group. Write a list of the club rules.

~~come to every meeting~~
organise trips
be green
be ready to work hard have experience

You don't have to come to every meeting.
